ROACH AND CLEGG DECLARED
GUILTY OF KILLING JOHN KEITH

Slayers of Lansdowne Conductor to Serve Ninety-Nine and Seventy-Seven Years, Respectively, in Penitentiary—Jury's Verdict to Be Read in Court This Morning—Prisoners Decline to Discuss Case.

MIKE ROACH. GEORGE A. CLEGG.

Who were found guilty of murdering Conductor John Keith and who will be sentenced this morning.

Later Detective Fahy and another policeman saw Roach and Clegg in a saloon on Collinsville avenue.

As Roach was being taken out of the saloon he drew a revolver and shot Detective Fahy in the back. Roach escaped, but was captured at the home of Mrs. Wright, a few miles outside of East St. Louis.

The jury brought in the verdict early yesterday morning, but it did not take long for the news to leak out. The verdict will be opened in the Circuit Court.

Much of the credit for the conviction of Roach and Clegg is given to Chief of Police George O. Pendergast, who worked for months on the case. He traced several witnesses over a dozen States in order to get them here in time for the trial.

Shortly after the murder was committed Chief Purdy decided that Roach and Clegg were in the city. He went to the Carl killing, which occurred while H. C. House was Chief of Police. He issued orders for the arrest of Roach whenever he came to East St. Louis. Several months ago, Roach and Clegg were in the city. They were arrested and taken to the penitentiary.

PRIEST TO INSTRUCT CLASS IN LANGUAGE

The Reverend Father John S. Long Will Teach Foreigners the English Language.

PROFICIENT IN FIVE TONGUES.

Since Preaching in Spanish to Cliff Dwellers, His Fame as a Linguist Has Spread Rapidly at World's Fair.

The Reverend John S. Long, pastor of All-Saints Church, Maple avenue and Sixty-third street, will open tonight a language class for the benefit of foreigners connected with the World's Fair.

It will be in charge of Professor George Wright, who will give instructions in one of the classrooms of All-Saints' School.

The purpose is to give foreigners who will remain during the Fair, and who cannot speak English, an opportunity to acquire such knowledge of the English language as will permit them to facilitate their social and business intercourse with English-speaking persons.

Father Long started the class at the request of persons connected with the Fair. Father Long's duties will not permit him to devote much of his time to the supervision of the class, although he is competent to do so, as he speaks five languages.

Father Long, besides English, is proficient in Spanish, Italian, French and German. He hears confessions in those languages.

He has already been called on to hear confessions in most of the languages he understands, as his church is only ten minutes' ride from the fair grounds. He expects that when the Fair has started he will be required to make use of his linguistic accomplishments in hearing confessions.

Information of his knowledge of languages became known at the Fair grounds through an incident.

PREACHED IN SPANISH.

One Sunday recently a band of cliff dwellers attended All-Saints' Church. Father Long was attracted by their picturesque dress, and he delivered a sermon in Spanish.

The cliff dwellers were delighted, and on their return to the Fair grounds they related their experience.

Governor Ramos Archuleta called on Father Long and thanked him.

A few days later Father Long was requested by a delegation of foreigners to start a language class.

As the Fair progresses it is possible that if foreigners attend All-Saints' Church in numbers the class will be enlarged.

Father Long will preach alternately in the different languages he speaks.

LITTLE NEGRO WOMAN
NOT YET OUT OF DANGER.

Condition Has Improved and Physician Hopes to Save Her Life.

Negrita Rhinang, the little Negro mother, who has been dangerously ill at the Mullinugh hospital, since the death of her baby last Friday, is better.

Although not yet out of danger, the child's condition was said yesterday to be improved, and the physicians hope for her recovery.

With Negrita at the hospital is her husband, who is also ill of the grip. He also has improved and will be discharged from the hospital in a few days.

There are now four patients in the hospital. Three other members of the Filipino colony of the World's Fair besides the Rhinang family.

The others are a Negro and two Igorrotes, who were brought there last week suffering from the effects of a heavy rain.

The sick savages are commended by the nurses as excellent patients. They take the bitterest and most unpalatable medicines without protest. They remark to the nurses, after swallowing the drugs, that they do not taste good, but never refuse or object to taking them.

The most docile patients they have ever had in the hospital are the Filipinos. They are now in the hospital, and are doing well in their treatment, seeming to recognize that everything done for them is for their good.

INSTALLING LAST OF STATUARY.

Chief Bitter Announces Final Plans for Placing Groups at Fair.

The installation of statuary at the Exposition grounds is now almost completed, but a few of the important pieces and groups remaining to be placed are the "Palace of Sculpture" and the "Palace of the Past." Chief of Sculpture Bitter has announced that the statue "Pastoral" by C. A. Heber, showing a reclining youth playing on the pipes of Pan, has been assigned a permanent place in the garden between the palaces of Transportation and Carried Industries.

This is one of the most prominent spots in the whole park, being the former site of the Model Express office, which was torn down and removed in order not to mar the picture. The fountain, which attracted a great deal of favorable comment from visitors here during the dedication ceremonies last week, and the "Palace of the Past" and the "Palace of the Future" are in the line of the Colonnade of States and the Palace of Fine Arts.

Two large sculptured groups by Lorado Taft, entitled "Mourning" and "Joy," are now being installed in the garden between the Palaces of Machinery and Transportation. The former represents a man crowning a pedestal, beside which are figures of miners. The latter statue is a female, carried on a deer, surrounded by six maidens.

WOULD EXHIBIT MONSTER FROGS.

New Orleans Merchant Offers Them for Placing Groups at Fair.

Mark Twain's famous "jumping frog" may have several rivals at the World's Fair if the offer of Nat Wetzel of New Orleans is accepted by the Exposition management. Mr. Wetzel offers for display at the Fair four monster frogs, of which he is the proud possessor.

The frogs, he says, are black-and-white spotted and are very large, weighing each about 15 pounds. "I'll put our intention to remain here for a week, and then we shall probably go to Washington and Chicago and show them to the President and the Vice President," he says.

Another curiosity has been offered to the Fair management by C. S. Bowser of Louisiana. He offers for display a log from between the clay and coal strata of North Dakota. It is about 30 inches long, 10 inches wide and 6 inches thick and has a rough bark, like oak.

TO TEST ELECTRICAL MACHINES.

Experts Completing Plans for Importing Work at the World's Fair.

In the laboratories of the National Bureau of Standards in the Palace of Electricity at the World's Fair will be shown more than $20,000 worth of instruments for testing every kind of electrical machine and apparatus. Several Government experts will conduct tests and investigations in the exhibit space of 25 by 20 feet.

In order to overcome the effect of warm weather on the instruments an expensive refrigerating plant will be installed, as well as a system of fans to circulate the air on the delicate instruments. The plant will dry the air. The testing instruments will be of use in making complete records and also for aiding in making their awards.

TOTEM POLES FROM ALASKA
SET IN PLACE AT FAIR.

Ancient Lore and History of Northern Indians Quoted in Native Dancers May Be Secured.

The ancient lore and the history of the Indian tribes of Alaska for generations back will be set up at the World's Fair for all who run to read if they can. Twenty totem poles, brought from Alaska, will be the books in which this history is set out, and the poles will ornament the two native houses that flank the Alaskan building.

The first two of these poles were set up yesterday, and form a striking sight. They stand directly in front of the eastern end of the building, and are gaudily painted in the rude coloring of native artists. The oldest Alaskan totem pole is the one that bears the origin of these poles, but they are believed to be as old as 150 years.

According to Mrs. Mary H. H. is the manager of the Alaskan exhibit and the only woman ever appointed to public office in Alaska. They are the graveyards for the nobility and gentry of the country, the hollow space in the rear being used for the storage of the bones and bones of the chiefs of the tribes and their families.

During the performance the dancers wear masks of ermine, which reach down to their knees, the masks often representing a great money value. The dance is given for every event of importance in the lives of the Indians, and is a gala affair with them.

TEXAS WILL RAISE MORE MONEY.

Commissioners to Fair Will Attempt to Collect $100,000.

Dallas, Tex., April 24.—At the final meeting of the Texas World's Fair Commissioners in this city yesterday, a review of the work done was made, and a large amount of routine work attended to. Reports showed that the commission lacks $100,000 of having sufficient money for all purposes, and an appeal was issued for aid.

Each Commissioner was instructed to raise $25 on his district. The financial report showed approximately $20,000 collected.

Proper arrangements were made for dedication of the Texas building at St. Louis May 4.

ROYAL GERMAN PARTY LANDS.

Prince and Princess Come Over to See the Fair.

The Bleucher was specially met at quarantine shortly after 7 o'clock by the revenue cutter Mackinac, which landed the party at Thirty-fourth street, and they went to the Hotel Netherland, where they expect to remain one week.

"We are over for about six weeks," said the Prince Zu Hohenlohe. "It is our intention to remain here for a week, and then we shall probably go to Washington and Chicago and show them to the President and the Vice President," he says.

"I was very much amazed by your tall buildings, which I saw on my way to St. Louis about the latter part of the month. I had read about them, but I must say that my first impression of America have rather overwhelmed me."

TROLEY LEAGUE GAMES.

Ben Millers Defeat Kerna in Six-Inning Battle by Score of 5 to 3.

The Ben Millers defeated the Kerna in the second game of the Trolley League season at Kulaga's Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 5 to 3.

Umpire Harry Shanks called the game at the end of the sixth inning on account of rain.

The Millers shot out in front in the third inning by making three runs on some timely hitting. They added another tally in the fourth on two singles. Erman's team made their final run in the sixth inning.

The Kerna made their first tally in the fourth inning, and their last two in the sixth.

Young was in fine fettle and let the Kerna down with five hits. The Millers touched Brown for each out. Erman's team made two
